The Coffee Beans Origin

Indonesia (Papua)

Bold and Balanced

Nourished by Mother Nature, the 'blue mountain' coffee beans of Papua are grown on the highland mountain plateau of Wamena, Indonesia. At an elevation of 1600 feet above sea level, these coffee beans are cultivated in an ideal climate with abundant rainfall, perfect temperatures, and rich soil. The perfect environment allows the Papua coffee beans to maintain their natural heritage: sweet, savory and uniquely delicious. The delightful classic flavors are then embellished with floral and fruity hints of the surrounding plateau, giving rise to a coffee that is distinctively exceptional.

Coffesso Papua enhances the original taste of the Papua coffee with its medium dark roasted, buttery-chocolate, smooth-velvety texture and a touch of citrus finish. In harmony, Coffesso Papua blends the light bitter-sweet taste and moderate acidity; all characteristics that coffee lovers desire in a perfect 'balanced' cup of espresso.
